

The Flash

An early-morning preview of

The Adams Daily Report

Friday, April 13 2012

NFL to Permit Advertising by Casinos During Next Two Seasons

(National) The National Football League will allow teams to accept advertising from casinos during the next two years...A memo sent to all 32 teams yesterday and seen by Bloomberg News said franchises could sell ads in game-day programs, on club-controlled radio and in stadiums. The casinos must be in a team's market. Under the altered policy, advertisers can't take bets on any sports other than horse and dog racing. (Dex McLuskey, Bloomberg News)

(Ohio) Hollywood Casino Columbus is looking for 600 dealers - but if you smoke, are color blind or just plain grumpy, don't apply. (Tim Feran, The Columbus Dispatch)

(Massachusetts) Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced yesterday that he had set up a committee to oversee the establishment of a potential resort casino in Boston. (Martin Finucane, Globe Staff)

(Maryland) A possible expansion to table games at approved slots venues in Maryland, including the Casino at Ocean Downs, died on the table late Monday night as the General Assembly session expired. (Shawn J. Soper, News Editor)
Also: Prince George's casino supporters struggle to win over O'Malley

(Las Vegas) Interview of Michael Gaughan III who has taken the helm of the entire operation at the Resort at Summerlin. Son of Southpoint owner Michael Gaughan and grandson of former El Cortez owner Jackie Gaughan, Gaughan took over the management of the property April 1. (Caitlin McGarry, Las Vegas Review-Journal)

(Horse Racing) Patrick Valenzuela has announced his latest comeback through agent Tom Knust, saying he plans to return to race riding at Belfair Hollywood Park April 26. (BloodHorse.com)

(Internet) Two Full Tilt Poker directors were hit with another class-action lawsuit Thursday by online poker players upset because they can't withdraw funds from the company. (Steve Green, VegasInc)

(Macau) Sands Cotai Central welcomed over 84,000 visitors during the first six hours of its opening, according to a press release from Sands China Ltd, which owns and manages the property. (macaubusiness.com)

Also: Number of crimes involving croupiers increasing